New Years Eve Night

As we moved to the Nags Head on December 17th 2001, we are coming up to our own 10 year Anniversary

As such, this year, we want to re-open for bar service only after 9.30pm.
Entry will be by complimentary ticket only and will be directed more towards an informal social evening that brings together many of the local community and regular customers who have supported us over the years.. (A bit of food and music will also be provided) Details will follow later. Keep us in mind when thinking New Years Eve.

CLOSED ? ! ahh ? !

As part of our facelift, our Bar is having a new coat of varnish.
We think we may have to close while this is being done, we will let you know nearer the time but if we do, it will be sometime between Tuesday 2nd and Friday 4th January 2012.

New Wine List:-

"Something for Everyone"

Our new wine list is out now and can be viewed In-house or on the Web.
In addition to our standard wines by the glass, Karl, is offering weekly a different red and white by the glass. The wine offered, will range from new, unusual, and on some occasions a very fine wine. The emphasise is to have them favourably priced so as to make it worth trying.

Debbie's Column

Issue No 10

OK - Spirits are quite high now, (my spirit that is, not the cost of whisky e.g.) We are away a little bit in September, but already I wanna get back. We have owned a house in the States for the last 4 years, but now we have decided that this trip and one more will see out some restoration work we are doing over there, after that we could maybe rent it out for a few years.

So much focus on pushing forward with a multitude of projects here, I hope my enthusiasm and energy is as infectious as usual. Ideas for an Outdoor Christmas display, is one of the many creative ideas on plan.

I enjoy harmless fun; simple things that make you smile. I'm not complicated as some may think. I believe in always doing the very best you can, work hard, play hard, and treat everyone with respect. These simple rules I believe will always stand me in good stead, whatever the future holds.

Thanks as always.
Debbie

Customer Description

This statement was made by a mature lady who came to bowl, the statement was so unique and sweet, we wish to share it with you..... She said
"I love coming here, I call it Gods little Acre"

AFTERNOON TEA

Trial run, it was a freebie for some lucky customers who happened to be in on the day. The cakes were great. Well done Becky.

This trial run will now help us work on how best to display and serve our Afternoon Tea in the future.

NEW STAFF

Amy - a new young lady for Front of House bar and floor work has had an initial "Nags Head Induction", she appears to have enjoyed herself, and will therefore make a few appearances in the coming months. We all welcome her to the team.

SEPTEMBER PLANS

Not much planned for September, we have quite a bit on with bowling parties and, some holidays will be taken by full timers before Vicky, Hannah and Sophie go back to University.

OCTOBER PLANS

Carpet fitter is booked for the end of the month. Carpet sample is displayed in Reception. The chairs will be upholstered before that.....!!..... (After Rory's been on a Course)

Wall Repair – Scaffolding comes Down

The job to repair, re-plaster and re-paint the 2 gable ends is complete; the scaffolding supposedly comes down on Monday 5th September. We will look forward to seeing the result of everyone's hard work. (Actually the lower part still needs painting but we need the scaffolding down first).
